Overview

Written communication lacks non-verbal cues such as body language, tone, and facial expressions—making it one of the most complex and risky forms of communication. This training aims to help professionals write emails and documents that are clear, impactful, and professional.

Participants will learn how to express themselves effectively through email and develop strategies to overcome common pitfalls in written business communication.

Who Should Attend

- Executives and mid-level managers
- Employees aiming to improve professional writing skills
- Customer-facing or email-heavy roles
- Professionals with leadership aspirations

What You Will Learn

- Understanding the components of communication and personal style
- Recognizing the strengths and risks of written communication
- Mastering professional and impactful email writing
- Applying correct grammar, structure, and tone
- Following email etiquette and confidentiality norms
- Crafting written messages for crisis or sensitive situations
- Learning to create and edit professional documents
