Prerequisites

There are no formal pre-requisites for PRINCE2 Foundation but course attendees would benefit from some prior experience of working in projects.

Target Audience

Although there are no pre-requisites for the PRINCE2 Foundation certification, the Practitioner Level certification is suitable for those who are actually managing projects, either as part of a formal project management function or a role in which project management is an essential part of day-to-day work.

Successful attainment of the Foundation certificate (or a PeopleCert selected alternative project management qualification) is a mandatory requirement before a candidate is allowed to attempt the Practitioner Level exam.

It's your responsibility to ensure you meet the above requirements. If you are ineligible, you may want to consider the Foundation-level qualification only.

What You Will Learn

The course fully explains each integrated element of the PRINCE2 framework.

- Project context – The application of each PRINCE2 element must be fit for the project it is being applied to, including its size, strategic importance, industry sector etc.
- Principles – Seven guiding obligations underpin the management of a PRINCE2 project, and if these are not applied, it is not a PRINCE2 project.
- People – People are central to a PRINCE2 project, including those who are working on the project and those who may be impacted by it. You will understand the needs, capability, motivation, and interrelationships of each stakeholder, helping you to manage them effectively.
- Practices – The seven project management practices must be applied consistently throughout the project and these practices form the core of PRINCE2. The course covers why each practice is necessary and how it should be applied.
- Processes – The PRINCE2 lifecycle consists of seven lifecycle processes which detail the responsibilities and activities that should be undertaken from a project's conception through to its final closure.
